EUGENE SYMPHONY

ABOUT THE EUGENE SYMPHONY

Now in its 58th season, Eugene Symphony is recognized as a cornerstone of the performing arts in Oregon's southern Willamette Valley. Under the leadership of Music Director Francesco Lecce-Chong, the Eugene Symphony pursues its mission of enriching lives through the power of music by presenting annual classical, pops, and community engagement performances, regularly commissioning and premiering new American works, and disseminating its performances via radio broadcasts and recordings.

The Eugene Symphony is committed to serving, educating, and developing the widest possible regional audience through its programs. Over 25,000 people attend the Eugene Symphony's classical, family, and special performances each year.

Annually, the Symphony reaches nearly 90,000 individuals in a four-county region surrounding Eugene-Springfield. Our activities include:

- 12 subscription and special concerts at the Hult Center for the Performing Arts
- Free summer concerts at the Cuthbert Amphitheater, Roseburg, and Cottage Grove
- Student Programs: Encouraging Young Musicians to Achieve, Private Lesson Program, Link Up - The Orchestra Moves, Youth Concerts
- Pre-concert lectures and engagement for all patrons

Thank you for the opportunity to present you with the opportunity to partner with the Eugene Symphony for our gala fundraiser during our 58th Season. We welcome a dialogue to discuss marketing activities that reach a broad range of households and families, including concert patrons and community members alongside our shared belief that the arts are critical to a healthy community and vibrant economy. Please contact Gretchen Farrar, Development Director at gretchen.farrar@eugenesymphony.org of 541-687-9487 x1104 for more information.
